VOL. III. NO. 127.

CHICAGO, FRIDAY, MAY 28, 1897.

SIMMONS SCORES AGAIN.

Simmons, Morte Fosse and Pinkey Potter furnished the closest finish so far at the Ingalls meeting yesterday. The trio was in a mile selling race along with Paladin, Thurston, Sullross and Rudolph. It was a grand field to get together in a selling race, and the betting on it was extremely brisk. Monte Fosse closed a slight favorite over Pinkey Potter at 2 to 1. Simmons was quoted at 6 to 1, and liberal odds against the others, who were all well played.

Simmons acted mean at the post and caused a fifteen minute delay. He finally got away well in his stride and going to the front on the first turn raced all by himself to the three-quarter pole where Pinkey Potter challenged him. The Cushing gelding hung to him to the sixteenth pole where he weakened a bit and Simmons appeared to have the race won. Morte Fosse, however, came with a wonderful rush right on the end, but Simmons stalled it off and won by the shortest kind of a head.

Bloss rode a beautiful race on the winner. He got away well and used judgment at all stages.

B. J. Johnston's Diggs, who was a record breaker in his two-year-old form, but a counterfeited last season, was in the three-quarter handicap with a feather on his back. He had Miss Young, Indra and Uncas to beat, consequently 12 to 1 was offered against him. He had been working well and the smart ones about the track backed him, forcing his price down to 6 to 1. There was nothing to the race. Diggs got off in the first flight, and galloping Uncas and Indra to pieces early, came on about this business in the final furlong and won as he pleased.

Cavalry, the natural favorite, and well played, won the first race easily, and Knowles walked home with the two-year-old race. Knowles opened at 6 to 5, but owing to a heavy play on The Professor his price receded to 11 to 5.

The Fosters were down good on Caulfield in the last race and he should have scored, but Barrett raced him into the ground the first half chasing after The Rook, who would have stopped on her own accord after going five eighths. Barrett has thrown away several races for these people.

Uncas ran away about five eighths yesterday morning and that accounts for his race. He may have won had he been fresh.

MARSIAN'S WEDNESDAY RACE.

Enquirer, City: Marsian started in the fifth race at Morris Park Wednesday, had Doggett on his back and was quoted at 6 to 1 in the betting.
